The Ford Motor Company of Detroit will divide a profit of $10,000,000.00 among its employees. The floor sweeper in the office of the big factory will receive a wage of $5.00 per day. All honor to Henry Ford, a mechanic himself, who has amassed a fortune in the manufacture of automobiles within the last few years.

C. E. Drennan of the Sidney community last week sold 31 hogs weighing 6080 pounds, or an average of 196 pounds, for a total of $448.00. The hogs were fed on seven acres of damaged peanuts and were only on corn a week.

A. L. McDaniel has attached a cron mill to his gin at Gap and made his first run Saturday.

W. P. Pierce who made a daring escape from the Comanche County Jail in November, 1910 by climbing down the steam flue while there was a fire in the furnace was arrested last week at Strawn and returned to the jail.

In as much as Comanche has cut out the Chamber of Commerce and the street sprinkler to save expenses, why not do away with the City Corporation and save more taxes—let us go whole hog or none.

COUNTY SCHOOLS IN GOOD CONDITION

SUPT. DAVIS MAKES REPORT TO STATE AFTER VISITATION

O. L. Davis, District Deputy State School Superintendent, with headquarters at Brownwood, concluded a two weeks inspection of the Comanche County Schools last week and made his final report to the County Board at a meeting of that body in County Superintendent R. S. Walker's office Friday night.

Mr. Davis complimented the schools of Comanche County and stated that there were an unusually large number of outstanding schools in the county. A fine interest and school spirit is manifest among teachers, trustees, and patrons as well as the student body, he said.

Final report of the amount of aid which will be allotted to the different schools was delayed until the applications have been acted on at Austin. Mr. Davis stated, however, that it was his belief that with two exceptions every State Aid school in the county would be granted enough for a full eight months term. This will establish a new record in Comanche County as the average has never been that high heretofore, County Supt. Walker said.

Members of the Board attending the meeting were J. Frank Redwine, President; Walter Fritts of Van Dyke, Neely Burton of Newburg, H. Shockley of Lamkin and John Lightfoot of De Leon.

WHEAT FARMERS RECEIVE PAYMENT

Nearly five thousand dollars of Government money for the Comanche County wheat farmers was received in Comanche Wednesday by County Agent J. A. Barton who received $4954.00 to be distributed to the wheat farmers who co-operated in the reduction plans.

The money was in payment for the 1933 crop and amounted to just that much donation as the farmers were allowed to keep their wheat or sell it at market value and were not required to plow up or reduce their acreage in 1933.

The only requirement was that they enter into an agreement with the government that their acreage will be reduced for the next few years and at the end of each year during that period they will again be paid by the government for the reduction, Mr. Barton said.

Mayor Coleman Issues Warning To Citizenship

In the last few weeks, a good many little boys have been skating on the streets around the Court House.

The facts are, the children are in great danger of getting run over by automobiles, the children in skating, get in front of cars and they are greatly endangered, therefore, I am requesting the parents of all children, not to allow their children to skate on the streets where automobiles travel, if the parents will do this it will keep down a terrible accident, and perhaps save the life of a child.

Also, some little boys are riding bicycles down town where the traffic is large in volume, and the bicycle riders are in grave danger, and I suggest, that the parents of those little boys have them to be very careful, so they will not get run over.

Respectfully,
M. COLEMAN, Mayor.

Millard Coleman, who was injured recently in an automobile accident, was able to be brought home from a Brownwood hospital Friday.

TAX ASSESSING PLANS ARE SET

Assessing of county taxes is now underway in Comanche and is expected to begin in all parts of the county by February 1, L. R. Armstrong, Assessor, said Monday.

F. E. Adams is assessing in the City of Comanche. Other deputies appointed by Mr. Armstrong are: Jim Koonce, Jakehamon; Joe Gaines, Baggett; H. W. Hughes, Proctor; C. S. Caruth, Duster; Bedford Butler, Rucker; E. E. Wilkerson, Sipe Springs; Clats Robertson, Beattie; C. B. Williams, Fairview; W. A. Carlton, Van Dyke; John Gore, Hasse; R. S. Pinkard, Sidney; Ben Wilhelm, Mercer Gap; W. P. Magness, Gustine; J. H. Earle, Jr., Lamkin; and G. L. Morton, De Leon.

The Commissioners Court did not suggest any special values for livestock or automobiles this year according to Mr. Armstrong who said that each valuation would be made on its own merit.

As a rule, however, Mr. Armstrong said that the average value of sheep would be around $2.00 per head and that of goats a dollar per head; stock cattle $8.00 and milk cows from $10 to $25.

Homestead Exemption Is Big Saving To County.

A saving to the tax payers of Comanche County of $21,617.50 was effected by the State Homestead Tax Exemption Law last year according to County Tax Assessor E. R. Armstrong.

According to a recent amendment to the State Constitution all homesteads are exempt from the State tax which his year amounts to 77 cents on the one hundred dollar valuation.

Property in Comanche County subjects to exemption was valued at $2,807,470.00.

Taking $2,000 as the average value of a Comanche County homestead, the saving to each tax payer would be $15.40.

Property in this county subject to the State Tax in 1933 was $6,372,020 as compared to $9,178,390 in 1932 when the homestead exemption law was not in effect.

G.O.F. IN TEXAS WILL HAVE TO HOLD PRIMARY

According to an Associated Press dispatch appearing in daily papers Monday, Texas Republicans will be put to the trouble and expense of holding primaries next July to nominate their candidates for state offices. The law directs that every political party whose candidate for governor received 100,000 votes in the last preceding general election shall nominate through a primary.

The republicans did not nominate in a primary last time, because in 1930, William E. Talbot of Dallas, the republican nominee for governor, did not get 100,000 votes in his campaign against R. S. Sterling, democrat.

However, in 1932, Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, who was nominated in a state convention, obtained 317,807 votes, to Mrs. Ferguson's 528,986 votes. Bullington was nominated in an outburst of enthusiasm in the convention at Dallas. He pledged himself to strict enforcement of the state prohibition laws in event he were the nominee. He made an exhaustive campaign, speaking in almost every section of Texas.

His big vote merely saddled on the republicans a primary which they do not relish. Of course, there were not 300,000 republicans in Texas, a majority of those voters who preferred Bullington having been democrats who did not want Mrs. Ferguson.

DECEMBER TAX PAYMENT LOW

Tax payments in Comanche County were less during December, 1933 than for the same period of 1932 according to figures obtained at the County Tax Collector's office.

County, road and school taxes collected last month amounted to $12,589.03, nearly a fourth less than the $16,293.21 collected in December, 1932. Part of the loss was accounted for by the lower valuations, Mrs. B. W. Speed, Collector, said.

State taxes collected in December amounted to $5,272.92 as compared to $9,328.77 a year ago. This loss was due largely to the fact that State taxes are no longer paid on homesteads.

While the payment of current taxes are less than a year ago the payment of delinquent taxes show an increase, Mrs. Speed stated.

"Bo" Williams Gets Higher Post at Tech

Hugh (Bo) Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Williams of Comanche has been named director of athletics at Texas Tech College. Williams was promoted from business manager of athletics, according to a news story carried in daily papers last week. "Bo" took his degree from Tech last year and has been connected with the athletic department of the institution since he became a student there three years ago.

Williams attended Daniel Baker College at Brownwood after graduating from Comanche High and then entered the Lubbock school.

More Than 5000 Poll Taxes Unpaid In This County

With only ten days remaining for payment of poll taxes in order to qualify as a voter in 1934, about 5,700 prospective voters who were assessed such a tax in Comanche County had not paid up to Tuesday morning. Up to Tuesday, 1296 poll taxes had been paid out of more than 7000 assessed.

SCOTT TO HEAD LOCAL CHAPTER OF FARM AID

G. M. Scott, Comanche County farmer, has been named head of the Comanche County Credit Association and a member of the executive committee of the Five County Credit Unit organized recently at Stephenville in which the counties of Erath, Comanche, Hamilton, Hood, and Somervell, are members.

The organization is a production credit association designated to make loans to farmers and stockmen.

Funds for the capitalization will be furnished by the Production Corporation, a consolidation of all Government lending units as authorized by an act of Congress in 1933. The Five County Unit Group has made application for a charter authorizing a capital of $40,000 and the application has been sent to the Farm Credit Association at Washington. After the capitalization, the Association will be placed on a self operating basis.

Stephenville has been selected as headquarters for the Five County Unit Association.

Loans will be made by the Association for general agriculture and livestock production purposes, such as producing and harvesting crops, breeding, raising and fattening of livestock and the production of livestock and poultry.

Such loans will be secured by crop liens and chattel mortgages and the borrower will be required to submit a definite plan of payment, according to County Agent J. A. Barton.

The organization is strictly for business purposes and for the permanent aid to farmers and stockmen with no thought of charity, Mr. Barton stated.

Loans to farmers and stockmen of the five county are possible up to $250,000.00.

Loans will be made from the Stephenville headquarters and farmers and ranchmen interested are asked to get in touch with County Agent J. A. Barton or with G. M. Scott.

Delinquent City Tax Payment Is Showing Increase

Delinquent tax payments to the City of Comanche were seven times as much during the last half of 1933 as they were during the same period for 1932 according to Hill Huddleston, City Secretary who said that payments from June to December 1932 amounted to $572.24 as compared to $3489.20 for the same period last year.

The city delinquent tax list is to be published soon and an effort is being made to get all who will to pay prior to that date according to Y. W. Holmes, attorney who is handling the collections.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoffman and sons spent Sunday in Dublin with W. H. Novitt and family.

LET'S FALL IN LOVE

EDMUND LOWE
ANN SOUTHERN-MIRIAM JORDANIntroduction by arrangement with COLUMBIA PICTURES

Preparations were being made in the Premier Film studio for the production of a romantic Swedish drama in which Selma Forsell, the celebrated screen luminary, was to appear. Forsell was a very temperamental actress. She could not have anyone in her dressing room, and if anyone called, she flew into a terrific rage. Her director, Kenneth Lane, greeted her pleasantly as she came onto the set.

"Good morning," he said.

"You're good about it?" she asked.

"Well—maybe I'm wrong," he said, turning to his assistant. "All right?"

"Okay," said the assistant.

"Wait!" interrupted Forsell, who suddenly saw something off scene. "Who are those two women sitting over there?"

"That's the wife of Henry Tuttle. He owns a chain of theatres in the middle West."

"Let them sit in theatres. Not here," the star declared.

"But this is different, Angel. Mrs. Tuttle is here to—"

"I do not work with people visiting on the set. You know that. Make them go outside."

Ken maintained his composure with an effort and spoke in a pleasant voice. "All right, darling. But under his breath he said, 'Boy, how I'd like to slug that Swede.' Then, turning to his assistant, he ordered, 'Get them off the set.'"

As the two women left the set, the director turned back to the star. "They're going. Come on—let's go. Stand by, everybody."

"The next time somebody visits

"Now, Forsell, be a good girl. Play ball with us."

"I don't play ball with nobody," she said.

"Look, Forsell, listen to me. Let me speak to you like a father," Max continued.

"My father's in Sweden."

The manager threw his hands in the air. "Oh, what am I going to do? Louise, my hands are tied!"

"Get me a new script, and maybe I do it," suggested the star.

"So—all right," said Max. "So I'll get you a new script. So what's all the excitement? Ken, how long will it take?"

"It won't take us a minute," Ken replied, "because we're not going to have a new script. You'll play this one or nothing. I know what you can do and what you can't do. What you can't do would fill volumes. You've been getting away with murder long enough. I'm sick of it."

"Now, wait, Ken—!" Max interrupted.

"Who does she think she is, anyway?" Ken continued. "I taught her everything she knows. I made a star out of her. She's got a salary that sounds like the war debt."

Forsell was in a towering rage. "Ah! So now he insults me! So now I go back home—to Sweden!"

Max walked up to her. "Wait a minute, Forsell. Don't mind what Ken says. I didn't say it. Include me out of it."

Forsell ignored Max. "And what's more, I take the first boat back and here, I leave the set," Forsell declared. "A thousand times I told them they should not have anybody here—makes me crazy!"

"Ready, camera—action!" called the director.

The scene started when suddenly Forsell exclaimed, "Phooey!"

Ken yelled, "Cut!" and then rushed over to see what was the matter.

"It's bunk!" Forsell exclaimed. "The whole thing is bunk. I do not feel it—I won't play it!"

"Why, sweetheart, that scene was okay. It sounded all right to me."

"I do not care what you think," the actress exclaimed. "I do not play it. Such words! Such lines! Where is the fool that wrote them? I could kill him!"

On another part of the stage the writer was sneaking around a piece of scenery, looking apprehensively over his shoulder.

"The people they get here to work for me—idiots!"

Ken was burned up, but he managed to keep silent. "Before Max gets here, I want to make a prediction for you, Forsell," he said. "In a couple of years you'll be back in that drug store window where I found you, demonstrating hair tonic." He paused. "That's where you belong. At least you know something about that."

She continued to pace up and down. "Oh, yeh," she said contemptuously.

"The biggest mistake in my life was to drag you out of there and make a star out of you," Ken continued as Max and Louise walked toward the set.

"Well—what's the matter?" Max inquired.

"The matter is that I do not go on vid dot picture," Forsell declared.

Ken threw up his hands in a gesture of defeat, and Max looked at Forsell. "What's the matter with it?"

"I can't play it. I can't sing dot song. Everything is stupid. I quit!"

"Stop kidding," Max exclaimed.

"I don't kidding. I can't play it. I quit."

"But you can't walk out now," Max pleaded. "Come on, Forsell, be a good girl. Now listen."

"No! Right now I'm sick," said the actress.

I don't never 'come back." She turned on her heel and started away.

"Now look what you've done," said Max. "She's taking a boat."

"That's swell," Ken replied. "I hope it sinks."

"It's enough to break your heart," Max said. "You take a girl like that outta the gutter—a greenhorn—you build her up—make her a star—famous—this is what you get!" He was disgusted. "Aah!"

"Don't let it throw you, Max," said Ken. "You ought to be used to it by now."

"I'll never get used to it," he turned towards Ken with a sigh. "Well, what are we gonna do?"

"Have to dig up somebody else. I guess," said the director.

"Yeah? Who? There's only one Forsell. Stars like that don't grow on trees."

"We've got a couple of girls in the studio who could do it. Mary Chandler, for instance."

Max interrupted him. "Mary Chandler? Are you crazy?" He appealed to Louise. "We've got to have a Swede and he's talking about Mary Chandler?"

"She's an actress, isn't she?" Ken inquired. "I saw her give a swell performance in that war picture. She can characterize it, can't she?"

"Fine business. The whole world knows," said Max, counting with his fingers. "Number one—Mary Chandler comes from Brooklyn. Number two—she's Irish. Number three—that her name is Moriarty. And now she's going to ask them to believe she's a Swede. No, Ken—this is a Swedish picture and we've got to have a Swede."

"I don't know why, Max," said Louise. "Does every man who wears a union suit have to belong to a union?"

"No!" said Max, strongly. "And you don't have to be a Spaniard to eat a Spanish omelette, but if you're making a Swedish picture you can't play it in Hoboken."

"Maybe you're right about Chandler, Max," said Ken. "But there's no reason why some unknown can't play it. As long as the public doesn't know her."

"But she's got to be a Swede," Max broke in. "That I insist. If we can't find her I'll call the whole picture off."

NABERS CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY JUDGE OF BROWN

A. E. Nabers, present County Attorney of Brown County, has announced as a candidate for County Judge according to the Brownwood Bulletin.

Mr. Nabers formerly was a Comanche attorney.

Ken paled. "You wouldn't do that, Max?"

"Wouldn't I? Just watch me. With me, I got one motto. Never throw good money after bad. Already I got sunk in this picture over five hundred thousand dollars, and it ain't worth a nickel without a Swede."

"Okay, Max," said Ken. "I'll find you a Swede. I'll find one if I have to search twenty-four hours a day. I found Forsell, didn't I? Well, I'll dig you up another one just as good. Better, maybe. But don't call the picture off. You gotta do that for me. You know how I feel about it. It's the one picture I want to make. I've been fooling around with the idea for the last five years. Just marking time till I could get that mob there's a new star waiting to be discovered." He walked to his desk. "As long as she's a Swede you can do anything you want." He pressed several buttons. "And I hope you find her. It'll teach that Forsell a lesson. If you hadn't put her in pictures, she might have been a rubber in a Turkish bath."

Nellie and Garland entered. "Oh, Nellie," said Ken, "tomorrow morning send out a call for every Swedish actress in Hollywood."

"And, Garland," Max ordered, "you start a big publicity campaign. Kenneth Lane is looking for Swedes. Make it big."

"Okay, Mr. Hopper."

"Put a notice up in the studio that everybody look for a Swede to take Forsell's place. Everybody understand?"

Girls commenced to call at the Casting Office—Swedes, almost Swedes, near Swedes, those who had known Swedes, and those who had never heard of Sweden, all posing as daughters of Sweden. But none of them would do. Max and Ken paced up and down as one after another was interviewed during the two weeks of the search, while salaries went on. Max was still convinced that nobody but a Swede would do.

"Another truckload of Swedes just backed up to the Casting Office," said Nellie. "Should I wash them and send them in?"

"No, wait," said Max. "Any good faces?"

"Yes—good enough to wipe pens on," said Nellie.

"Well, come on," said Ken. "We might as well look them over."

"I've been looking them over for two weeks," Max made a grimace. "What's the matter with that one?" asked the man, pointing out a girl. "She's got beautiful eyes," he replied looking at her from the rear.

"What's the matter with that one?" asked Nellie, pointing to another girl.

"She's got a mouth like a torn bucket."

Max suddenly looked off towards the door. "There you are," he said, as a Swedish girl entered.

"This is my evening, and you can tell Max I said so."

MRS. DUNN HONORED AT SIPE SPRINGS TUESDAY

Mrs. Robert Dunn, who before her recent marriage was Miss Kate Foster, was honored Tuesday evening January 9, by Mrs. C. H. Morrow and Mrs. Allen Dunn at the home of Mrs. Allen Dunn, at Sipe Springs.

The honoree was the leader of a treasure hunt, and found the treasures on a darkened porch.

Following the hunt, refreshments of cake and hot chocolate were served to Mesdames M. A. Stephens of Oklahoma, Lee Poteet, W. N. Byrd, W. J. Westbrook, W. F. Foster, W. T. Spralling, Earl Morris, R. M. Rumphries, Ted R. Jay, Osborne Burnes, Jess J. Vauhan, Charlie Houser, B. M. Blechen, R. C. Smith, M. R. Hartford, Lewis Dunn, W. S. Fisher, J. J. Cummings, Bill Hamilton, John Clark, Ellie Elliott, Lewis Conrad, J. T. Hubbard, C. H. Morrow, and Allen Dunn, and to Misses Katy Poteet, Emma Hartford, Emma Poteet, Nannie Shocklee and Effie Foster.

Mrs. Dunn received many useful gifts, and a number were sent by parties unable to attend the shower.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lowe and Miss Nadine Thompson of Dallas spent the week end in Comanche with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Thompson.

"Let her read it, may be something," Ken exclaimed. "Can you act?"

"Please? What?" the girl inquired.

"Do you act?"

She became confused. "I dunno. I never try."

"Well, then, try!" Ken shoved the script into her hand.

In broken English she started to read a few lines. "That's enough!" Max exclaimed.

"I'd like to have some bicarb and a pistol," Ken declared. "I then turned to the girl."

"Told you you could act?"

"Nobody," said the girl.

"I didn't come to see you act," Miss Carole Lombard's maid started away, and Ken picked out another girl.

"Miss, will you read this, please."

"I don't act so good," said the girl. "I walk on a wire like this."

"I can't get you a wire," said Ken. "But I can get you a rope."

He selected another one, but she was even worse.

"Stop! Enough!" Max exclaimed. "Why did you stop her? What's wrong with her?" asked Nellie, but Max had left.

Day after day they interviewed girls, but never a one fit the role.

"I don't want to see any more!" Ken exclaimed. "Send them away. I'm going crazy."

"Now, now, wait, Ken—" Max implored.

"What do you want to do—make a raving maniac out of me?" He saw the hopeless expression on the producer's face. "I'm sorry, Max. Have them come back later. I've got to go to dinner—got an engagement."

Ken went over to the home of Gerry Marsh and sat with her on lounge before the fireplace. It was after dinner. Ken put down his glass and shook his head.

"This is my evening, and you can tell Max I said so."

"Will you please stop?" Gerry pleaded. "You'll worry yourself into a decline."

"I'm in one right now. I'm up to my neck in Swedes. They're in my hair. I've seen thousands of them in the last two weeks."

"Does she have to be a Swede?" Gerry inquired.

"Certainly not. I'm willing to settle for an Armenian."

"Then why don't you put your foot down?"

"If I did, I'd probably step on a Swede." He became serious. "No, Max has got his mind set on it and I might as well give him his way. After all, it's my fault that Forsell quit."

"Forget about it," Gerry urged. "Check your brains for the evening. You're going to the circus."

"Not me. I'm going back to the studio and look at more Swedes."

"Oh—darling! I promised Linda and Alan that we would go with them."

"Well, I sort of promised Max."

Ken replied.

"I'm not going to let you go," said Gerry. "This is my evening, and you can tell Max I said so."

"You positively won't let me?"

"Not a chance."

"You're right. I ought to get my mind off that picture for a few hours. Tell me, dear, when are we going to announce our engagement?"

"I don't know."

"You don't know?" asked Ken, surprised.

"Darling, if I never see you now, what'll it be like after we're married? I'll have to move into the studio just to say hello to you once in a while."

"It'll be different," Ken declared. "I don't see why it should be."

"Then why don't you take me on a six months' trial, like a vacuum cleaner?"

She laughed. "Marriage is serious. Ken, I want to be sure. I want to be convinced."

Linda and Alan arrived to break up the tete-a-tete, and the party left for the circus.

WHAT Would Taste Good For Supper Tonight?

How many wives have asked that question—and how many brides of the future will ask it—of indifferent husbands right after breakfast or lunch? At first hopefully; almost desperately after a time, and finally as part of a dull daily soliloquy. For every wife discovers, sooner or later, that a man with a newly satisfied palate is a total loss as a source of inspiration for future meals.

Nevertheless, it's an important and trying matter, this business of planning the menu.—But along with all the tasks of finding out just what to cook and what each and every member of the family would like for the next meal, there is yet another task—and that can easily be solved. Many a meal is ruined on the stove. A poor fire, of slow, uneven heat, will many, many times spoil the efforts of a good mother.

NATURAL GAS

gives a smooth, even heat. The burner can be turned high or low, regulated for either baking or frying.—And above all it is your cheapest fuel. If you are not using gas for cooking your day's meals, do so. It will bring you many hours of happiness in your kitchen. The entire facilities of our organization are available for the housewives of Comanche if they will call on us in connection with their heating problems.

Relieves Women's Pains

Here is an example of how Cardul has helped thousands of women:

"I was very thin and pale," writes Mrs. F. H. Scott, of Roanoke, Va. "I suffered from weakness and a severe pain in my back. This pain unnerved me, and I did not feel like doing my work. I did not care to go places, and felt worn, tired, day after day."

"My mother had taken Cardul, and on seeing my condition she advised me to try it. I have never regretted doing so. I took three bottles and it built me up. I gained in weight, my color was better and the pain left my back. I am stronger than I had been in some time."

Cardul, the purely vegetable medicine which so many women take and recommend, is sold by local druggists.

"HE WENT AWAY"

(Matthew 19; 16-26.)
(By Jesse Allon Tiner)

"Good Master, kind, what can I do, That I may find the life that's true? That I may win the way that's straight, And enter in at the right gate."

Oh, hear him tell, "without a flaw I have lived well, I've kept the law, In all my days there's no regret, Right are my ways, what lack I yet?"

"If you would be" Jesus replied, "Perfect in Me e'er to abide, Earth disposes, count it all loss, My name confess, take up The Cross."

Here is the line, laid at the Cross, Here's life Divine, or awful loss, Christ he must choose without delay, Or Heaven loose, "He went away."

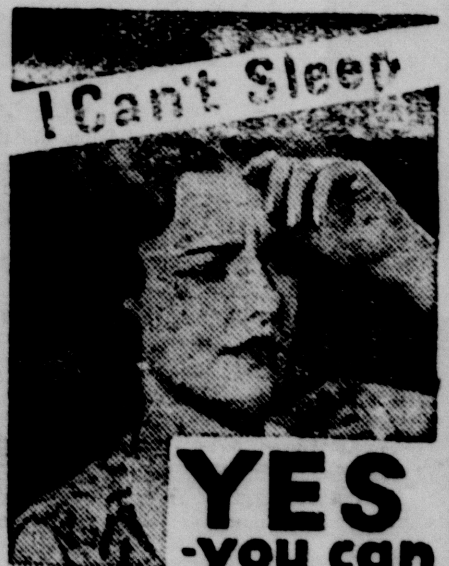

Sorrowful heart, said to behold, He could not part from his vain gold, He loved the world, with it he'd stay, From Christ he swirled, "He went away."

"He went away" in tender youth, He turned that day from Grace and Truth, This was his choice the scriptures say, From that sweet voice "He Went Away."

Doctors Give Creosote
For Chest Colds

For many years our best doctors have prescribed creosote in some form for coughs, colds and bronchitis, knowing how dangerous it is to let them hang on.
Creosolium with creosote and six other highly important medicinal elements, quickly and effectively stops coughs and colds that otherwise might lead to serious trouble.

Creosolium is powerful in the treatment of colds and coughs, yet it is absolutely harmless and is pleasant and easy to take.

Your own druggist guarantees Creosolium by refunding your money if you are not relieved after taking Creosolium as directed. Beware the cough or

Farmers Hold Cotton Meeting Here Saturday

Two hundred farmers heard
County Agent J. A. Barton explain the 1934-35 Cotton Reduction Plan Saturday afternoon,
January 13th, at Comanche. Mr.
Barton stated that in 1933 Comanche County farmers reduced their acreage around 40 per cent and made $150,000 to $175,000 by co-operating and that again the need for continued co-operation is a great as 1933.

This year there will be between ten and eleven million bales of cotton carried over, according to Government estimates.
Farmers are not to reduce in 1934 between 35 and 45 per cent and in 1935 not over 25 per cent.

Figures were presented that brought out the facts that as surplus bales increased, the price went down and as surplus decreased, prices went up. So it will be left up to farmers of the South to say whether they will get 6c or 7c for cotton this fall or whether they will get 14c and 15c for it. It all depends upon reduction of acreage, Mr. Barton said.

Contracts are being signed at the following places and all who are to sign a contract or want additional information are asked to get in touch with one of the committeemen or vocational agriculture teachers. The committees where contracts can be signed are: Spe Springs, Imola,
Gap, Sidney, Comanche, Fairview,
Harmon, Newburg, Pettit, Energy, Creamer, Gustine, Lamkin,
Wilson, Proctor, Comyn, De Leon,
Duster, Beattie, Oliver Springs and Van Dyke.

Contracts must be signed up in January so all who intend to sign should get busy and see local committeemen, Mr. Barton said. The local committeemen will not visit the farms at this time, and farmers must see them, Mr.
Barton concluded.

He Got Surprise On His Want-ad

The advertising power of The Chief exceeded the expectations of J. T. Couch of Gustine who figured it would take an advertisement for three issues in The Chief to sell his corn when he placed a want ad in last week's issue offering 600 bushels for sale.

Tuesday Mr. Couch came into our office and ordered the advertisement stopped, stating that he had already sold out of corn and that morning had turned back two trucks which came after more.

Marriage Licenses During 1933 Show Marked Increase

Marriage licenses in Comanche County showed an increase in 1933 over the preceding year according to records in the County Clerk's office which show that 217 licenses were issued in 1933 as compared to 161 in 1932. Repeal of the "Gin Marriage Law" which is credited with the cause of the increase in many counties, is not thought to have had any part in Comanche County as the ratio of increase was just as heavy during the first months of the year as it was after August when the law had been repealed.

November during 1933 supplanted both June and December as the month of brides, with more couples marrying around Thanksgiving than during Christmas week. Thirty two couples married in November as compared to 29 in December and 18 in June.

Marriages by months follow: January 17, February 18, March 13, April 11, May 15, June 13, July 17, August 14, September 17, October 15, November 32 and December 29.

Thirty five applications were filed for divorce in Comanche County during 1933 according to records in the District Clerk's office, making the ratio of marriages to divorces in this county, a little more than six to one.

Poultry Column

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. I have 100 chickens all ages, old hens, young pullets, then just small chicks. Part of them are Reds, Rocks and White Leghorns. I would like to know if it pays to buy feed to feed these chickens considering the price of feed and the price that eggs will be when they start laying?

A. If you want me to tell you frankly what your main trouble is, it is the fact that you are not starting your chicks at the right time and not buying the best kind of chicks, perhaps. At any rate, if I were you, I would certainly not buy three or four breeds if you are going to make a profit out of the poultry business. It is not so much that you cannot make a profit with a mixed flock but you will find much more satisfaction in a pure bred flock of one breed and give them much better attention if you stick to one good breed. Besides you cannot handle old hens and pullets in the same flock and do it well.

If you want to get eggs when prices are highest, buy your chicks in February, or March at the latest, and get them from one of the best breeders in the country if you can possibly afford it. You will be farther ahead at the end of the year than by buying a mixed lot late in the season when they are cheap and when the breeder or the hatcheryman does not grade them with quite the same care as he might earlier in the season, when he has fewer orders. Stick to one breed if for no better reason than to get uniform colored eggs.

You want to get eggs from July to January—not from December or January to July. Get your pullets in production in July or August next summer—not in November or December. If you do this, it will pay you to buy a good commercial feed and stick to it.

Send your poultry questions to Poultry Editor—Comanche Chief.

Science says Today use a LIQUID Laxative

If you want to GET RID of Constipation worries—

Any hospital offers evidence of the harm done by harsh laxatives that drain the system, weaken the bowel muscles, and in some cases even affect the liver and kidneys.

A doctor will tell you that the unwise choice of laxatives is a common cause of chronic constipation. Fortunately, the public is fast returning to the use of laxatives in liquid form.

A properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement. There is no discomfort at the time and no weakness after. You don't have to take "a double dose" a day or two later.

In buying any laxative, always read the label. Not the claims, but the contents. If it contains one doubtful drug, don't take it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescription preparation in which there are no mineral drugs. Its ingredients are on the label. By using

THE METHODIST CIRCUIT

(Moral and Spiritual Health)

Just now, and for some time to come, Dr. Smith and the County Nurse, Miss Ruth Haynes, will be on their rounds to the country and city school waging a campaign against typhoid fever, diphtheria, and smallpox. Today all sources of drinking water is being analyzed, dairies, water source of milk being inspected, restaurants and barber shops being peeped into and constantly disease germs are being run down. So far as bodily health is concerned we are safer than at any time in the history of the world. Years a long time gone whole cities were destroyed by infectious and contagious diseases which are now preventable by the use of serums and vaccines. But how about moral and spiritual health?

Veritable cesspools of crime and moral disease are allowed to continue contaminating country and city life. "Rackets" of every kind are filtering out virus more deadly than small pox or diphtheria. Literature and art is being used as channels through which social life is poisoned. A detective who had been on a trail of crime for many years, recently said that the worst trouble with literature and the movie of today was they made heroes out of criminals and our youth taught to admire criminals and their work. Our movies, one of the greatest channels of wholesome entertainment and education, seem to be bent on making the Seventh Commandment a mock as they did the 18th Amendment. There seems to be little regard for the law, or decency in other places than Hollywood.

State and City powers are grappling with crime without much hope, it seems, of any immediate victory, simply because moral and spiritual health sources have been contaminated with sewage through the presses of dirty literature and movie filth, both of which are channels of useful, moral and mental health, when so directed.

Our church papers and that stamp of literature that is most useful to the home and community is neglected. When our churches are most empty, our jails are fullest of our people, both young and older ones. It has been estimated that the detection and prosecution of crime, along with the waste on account of crime is perhaps 10 or 15 billions of dollars annually.

The late President Calvin Coolidge said in an article in The Christian Herald, not long before his death, "I do not see any method of improving our social and economical relations except through the teachings of religion. In fact it is my belief that we have gone as far as we can in progress and reform until we have a more general acceptance of the truths of religion." When a man discovers that the expensive watch that he has been carrying around in his pocket has suddenly refused to record the passing hours he generally takes the ailing time-piece to an expert watch repairer. It does not occur to him that an automobile mechanic could do the job just as well and perhaps at lower price. Religion is not to be superseded by some other plan nearly as good, without the net results being felt keenly.

As Dr. Smith and the County Nurse, Miss Haynes, is, and will be engaged in waging war on disease, so shall the church be preventing moral diseases by the inoculation of men and women with love for God and man. If we can get the co-operation in our task as mothers and fathers are giving Dr. Smith, we will succeed in a great measure in stopping sin and shame.

"Righteousness exalteth a nation but sin is a reproach to any people." Come and bring your children to church. Get the gamble and risk out of life.

Nerves Do they torture you by day? Keep you awake at night? What is it that keeps hospitals open and doctors busy? NERVES. What is it that makes your face wrinkled and makes you feel old? NERVES. Nine times out of ten it's NERVES that make you restless, worried, haggard.

Nerves Do they make you Cranky, Blue--give you Nervous Indigestion, Nervous Headache? When nerves are over-taxed, you worry over trifles, find it hard to concentrate, can't sit still. Nerve Strain brings on Headache. Nervous people often suffer from Indigestion. There may be absolutely nothing wrong with the organs of digestion, but the Nerves are not on the job to make the organs do their work properly.

Nerves Do they interfere with your work; ruin your pleasure; drive away your friends? You're cheating yourself and the man who pays you if you work when your NERVES are not normal. You can't have a good time when you are nervous. You can't make or keep friends when you are keyed up and irritable. You may excuse yourself, but to others you are just a plain crank.

TEMPORARY pain relief remedies may save you much suffering at the moment, but putting a mask over a warning signal does not clear up the condition it was telling you to avoid.

When periodic pains, due to a weak, run-down condition, distress you, treatment for the cause of the trouble should be started without delay.

Take Cardul to build up against the nagging symptoms of ordinary womanly ailments. It has been in use for over 50 years. So many women praise CARDUL, it must be good to have the widespread use that it has today. Sold at drug stores.

Affidavit Required
If Poll Receipt Not Obtained Personally

Poll tax certificates must be obtained by the person to whom they are issued or the person must fill out an affidavit if he mails in the fee for the poll tax or sends it by some one else.

Every year a large number of taxpayers when paying their taxes by mail, enclose the money for their poll taxes and fail to fill out the affidavit sent them with their tax statement. The Tax Collector then sends them a receipt for their money together with another affidavit which must be filled out and returned to the Collector's office together with the receipt for their money, which will then be exchanged, if returned by January 31, for a poll tax or voting certificate.

People who have paid their poll taxes in person at the office or who have filled out the affidavits for poll taxes when paying by mail have nothing further to worry about as far as a poll tax is concerned.

In other words, to procure a voting poll tax you must either pay it in person or fill out the affidavit sent you when paying by mail.

The poll tax may be paid, by husband and wife or either of them, without paying the property tax, but the property tax cannot be paid without paying the poll tax.

Lamkin Woman Gives History of Toliver Cemetery

Mrs. W. L. Hamilton, correspondent for The Chief at Lamkin, has submitted the following account of the history of Toliver Cemetery near Lamkin.

The Toliver Cemetery was established in the sixties during the Civil War, and received its name from a doctor by the name of Toliver who was born in 1811 and is buried in the cemetery.

Among the older tombs are those of George Tatum and Emma Secrest, both of whom died in 1866 and Louise Daniel who died in 1867. Graves said to be older than these have no tombs. One of the earliest graves is said to be that of a Miss Woods, who died from eating poison oak berries.

Several years ago more land was bought and the plot enlarged and the deed made to a committee of trustees. The cemetery is now enclosed with a modern high fence and has three barbed wires above that.

273 graves mark the plot. The cemetery was recently worked by a corps of 20 CWA workers under the direction of H. Shockley. $56.00 had been appropriated for the project.

Every grave was put in first class condition and the cemetery is said to be in better condition than has ever been known.

Mrs. Wm. Dingus on A.A.U.W. Committee

A news item from Lubbock states that Mrs. William Dingus, of Texas Technological College language department, has been appointed to the international relations committee of the American Association of University Women which is to meet in Washington January 18. This committee represents six states of the Central Southwest section of the United States, and is to be presided over by Dr. Mary E. Woolley of the A. A. U. W. and president of Mt. Holyoke College.

Mrs. Dingus formerly lived in Comanche and was a member of the Comanche High School faculty before going to Lubbock. She has been an active member of the state executive board of the Texas division of the A. A. U. W. for the past four years.

Flower Committee: Jim Johnson and Miss Minnie Elkins. Miss Iva Hart was re-elected Secretary.

COTTON BELT REMOVAL IS RECOMMENDED

The removal of the Cotton Belt Railway System from Comanche and Erath Counties has been recommended by an Interstate Commerce examiner, according to a news item in the Stephenville Empire-Tribune recently.

Carroll Black, local agent confirmed the report carried in the Stephenville paper, but said final action would have to be made by the Commission.

Following is the article appearing in the Empire-Tribune.

An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner recommended Monday that the Cotton Belt Railway be authorized to abandon its 41-mile line between Stephenville and Hamilton and the 31-mile line between Eidson and Comanche, according to information received here from Washington. The principal towns served by the lines are Stephenville, Carlton, Alexander, Lamkin, Gustine, Hamilton and Comanche.

Protests against the abandonment were filed by the Texas Railroad Commission, the Stephenville Chamber of Commerce, the Waco Chamber of Commerce and municipal and civic organizations of Comanche.

L. W. Phillips, secretary of the Stephenville Chamber of Commerce and other Stephenville business men joined in the abandonment fight when the first plea was heard at Brownwood Sept. 25. The group testified that there was sufficient business in this area to justify continuation of the Cotton Belt line.

Phillips said Wednesday that further protests by the towns served by the line would be useless and that no other action will be taken.

The Stephenville-Hamilton line was built as a local proposition and acquired by the St. Louis and Southwestern in 1910. It and the Eidson-Comanche lines are operated by the Cotton Belt under a long-time lease agreement.

The railroad company claims the branches have failed to earn operating expenses. The examiner said that owing to use of motor trucks in the territory there is no reasonable expectation of increased traffic in the future.

COUNTY MEET

Choral Club will be retained.

One new contest is scheduled for this year. It is a story telling contest in which pupils of the third grade will take part.

Each school system this year will have only one senior play ground ball team and one junior playground ball team. Members of the team may be from either High School or Grammar School or both. This is a new ruling as last year a school was allowed to have two senior teams and two junior teams, but players of a grammar school could not be on the same team with those of the high school.

Other contests will be carried out as scheduled in the League bulletin.

Awards to Winners.

For the first time within several years, awards will be made to each individual winner. Ribbons will be awarded to first, second and third place winners. The literary events will be held on Friday and the track and field meet at Saturday.

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—an 85 cent bottle lasts 4 weeks—you can get Kruschen at any drug store in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back. (Adv)

Wanting it Again

The following letter has been received from F. H. Oberthier of Hereford.

"Enclosed find $1.00 for the renewal of my Chief. I have missed two copies since my time was out and wish you would send them to me as I do not wish to miss a single copy. I have been reading the Chief since 1874 and it is always welcome in our household. With sincere wishes for a prosperous New Year."

Now Is The Time To BuyNursery Stock
And Ornamental Shrubs

We have just received thousands of fruit trees and have most any size, suitable for planting, that you want. Also a new shipment of ornamentals received the latter part of last week.

Better place orders early as the stock is short this year and the recent heavy rains have helped to create a big demand for fruit trees of all kinds.

Lowest Prices, combined with the Highest Quality Stock it is possible for us to buy makes this the logical place to buy your Nursery Stock needs.—Our yards are checked by the State Agricultural Department and our record is the best. Our last inspection was only a little over one month back.

VERY SPECIAL PRICES ON SMALL
PEACH, APPLE AND PLUM TREES.
